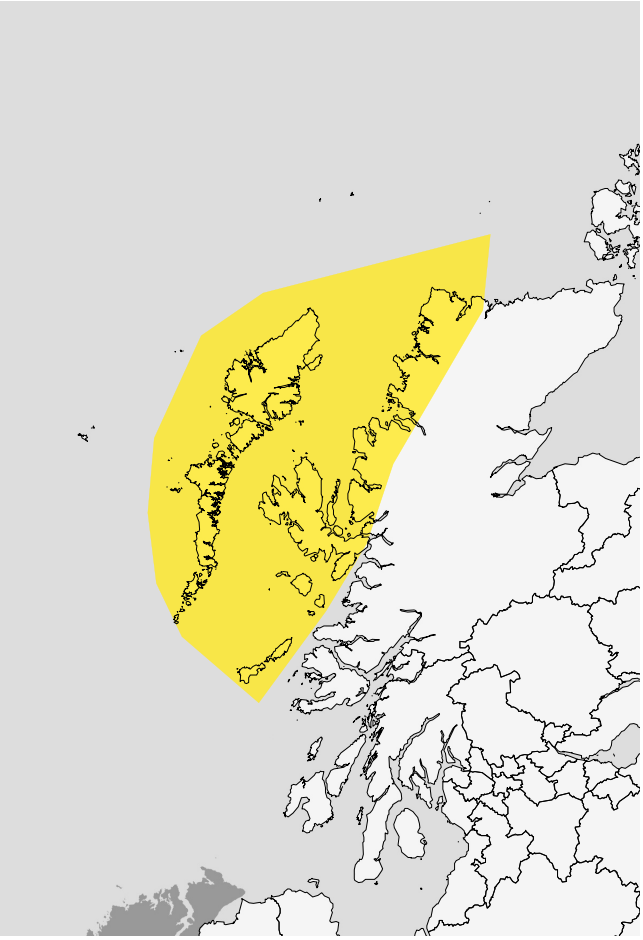
Yellow warning
Wind

Between
21:00 Sun 12 Dec 2021 and
06:00 Mon 13 Dec 2021



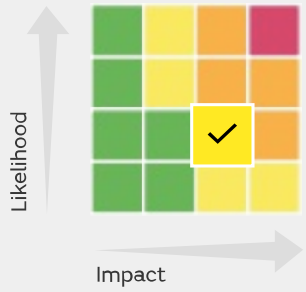
Very windy weather is possible across northern parts of Scotland. There is a risk of disruption to travel, particularly ferry services.

What to expect

- Injuries and danger to life from flying debris are possible
- Some damage to buildings, such as tiles blown from roofs, could happen
- Road, air and ferry services may be affected, with longer journey times and cancellations possible
- Some roads and bridges may close
- Power cuts may occur, with the potential to affect other services, such as mobile phone coverage
- Injuries and danger to life could occur from large waves and beach material being thrown onto sea fronts, coastal roads and properties

Further details

Strong winds are possible during Sunday evening and overnight, before easing quickly during Monday morning. There is potential for wind gusts to reach 80 to 85 mph, and in excess of 90 mph in a few locations, particularly over the Western Isles. The strongest gusts will be from a westerly or southwesterly direction. However, the very strongest winds may remain just offshore.



Low likelihood of medium impacts
